ALLIED SHIPS SHELL ITALIAN ISLAND AGAIN

Big Fleet of Vessels Also Reported To Have Sailed from Gibraltar.

By The Associated Press
Rome, June 3.—Mussolini's high command reported today that allied ships had renewed the assault on Pantelleria Island—the third day in four days on the "Italian Gibraltar"—even as German experts again manifested confidence over a possible liberation of southern Europe.

Meanwhile, dispatches from La Lanza, Spain, reported a huge movement of allied shipping from the harbor at Gijón, leaving the harbor at night in great British strength and virtually deserted.

Two convoys totalling 147 ships—transporters, freighters, merchantmen, tankers and a hospital ship—steamed into the Mediterranean at dawn yesterday en route to North African ports, it was reported.

Previously, an allied armada of three battleships, three cruisers, several destroyers and destroyers was said to have left "the rock" for destinations unknown.

Axis Convoys Attacked
Allied headquarters gave no indication of explanation for these reports, but declared a small force of allied destroyers attacked an axis convoy off Capo Spartivento, just off the southern tip of Italy, and sank two enemy merchant ships and an escorting torpedo boat and drove an enemy destroyer ashore in flames.

"Our forces suffered no casualties or damage," it was announced. Capo Spartivento lies off the tip of the Italian boot.

The London News Chronicle quoted French reports from Medrano saying an allied invasion of Pantelleria could be expected momentarily and that the shore-bound Italian fleet was "prepared to steam into battle at an hour's notice."

The Italian communiqué gave details on the new bombardment of Pantelleria, and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's headquarters said only that allied bombers attacked the island yesterday, along with sweeps over San Antonio island off Sardinia and over the Aegean sea.

Allied naval forces had previously shelled the island Sunday and Tuesday.

Important Island

Pantelleria lies 45 miles east of Cap Bon, Tunisia, and is strategically important as a potential stepping-stone for an invasion of Sicily or the Italian mainland.

A Berlin broadcast, discussing "invasion articles in the German army organ Die Wehrmacht," pressed the possibility of allied thrusts into Europe from several directions, and declared:

"An Anglo-American expeditionary force might perhaps succeed in crossing the Mediterranean and landing somewhere in southern Europe, but it would not have the slightest chance in battle against such continental armies with their millions of well-trained and well-equipped troops."

Coupled with this boast of axis invulnerability, the broadcast contended the allies "might perhaps succeed in obtaining a foothold at some points on the Norwegian coast for some time."

It cannot be denied, of course, that the Anglo-American occupation of Tunisia created a new situation in the Mediterranean, the British added. "It would be foolish to ignore the fact that the Anglo-Americans now are in a position to use the bases in Tunisia for offensive operations against Europe."

Benito Mussolini had termed the "new order tag" for the allies' attack on Europe.

EXPLOSION AND BURNS FATAL TO T. L. VANCE

Lives 12½ Hours After Blast: Wife, in Critical Condition, Not Told of Death.

Terley L. Vance, 38-year-old principal of the Glenwood Elementary school, died at 7 o'clock last night in the Marion City hospital, 12½ hours after he was severely burned in a gas explosion in his home at 515 North State street.

His wife, Gladys Davis Vance, 39, a former public school music teacher in southern Ohio and a private music instructor here, remained in critical condition, hospital officials reported this morning, suffering from self-inflicted bullet wounds.

Vance died of burns suffered when he attempted to light a cigarette upon awakening around 6:30 a. m. yesterday. His match ignited gas which had been piped into his room through a 25-foot garden hose attached to a jet from a small bathroom heater, Police Chief William E. Marks reported.

Japs Given Little Chance To Gain Pacific Control

Capital Observers Say Defeat in Battle of Midway Started Enemy on Skids in Western Sea Warfare.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, June 3.—The ultimate wreckage of Japan's ambitious scheme to smash American power in the Pacific and dictate peace in the White House is seen by authorities here in the history of 12 months of warfare following the enemy's decisive defeat in the battle of Midway island, which was joined a year ago today.

Not once since that humiliating thrust aimed at the conquest of the North American continent itself has Tokyo been able or willing to launch a major new offensive, and now the initiative has passed so thoroughly into American hands that no other enemy drive of similar proportions seems possible in this way.

The reconquest of Attu island, which also downed the enemy name on nearby Kiska, already strips the Japanese of the minor gains they made from the grand strategy that resulted in their defeat at Midway. Complete cleanup of enemy forces in the western Aleutians seems probable sometime this summer.

On Attu more than 1,500 of the foe have been killed, according to an actual count of bodies.

ACTION MAY COME TODAY OR TOMORROW

Roosevelt Reported Ready To Back Order with Drastic Action.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, June 3.—President Roosevelt is represented by informed quarters today to be prepared to order John L. Lewis' striking coal miners to go back to work on Monday, with a program of more drastic action in reserve if his first demand goes unheeded.

The back-to-work order may come late today or tomorrow, believe trustworthy persons, whose identity may not be published.

The plan, as these informants understand it, contemplates full use of the commander-in-chief's wartime power and his authority under the selective service act, literal enforcement of all laws governing aliens, of whom there are thousands among the mine workers, and the use of troops in force, finally necessary.

A possibility of employing former mine workers now in the armed services also is under consideration, competent sources reported.

The President's advisers were described as confident the strike could be ended and that a show of military might would be effective if other methods failed.

Statistical data on the draft classifications and alien status of members of the United Mine Workers were said to be on hand at the White House.

The President was understood to have sustained the war labor board's position and effectively blocked any dickerings between Lewis and other government officials.

It is the board's definite position that the coal strike must be handled like all other previous defiance cases, that is, by negotiations with the government and no adjudication of the issues while there is an interruption in production.

Besides the possibility of a presidential order for the miners to return and the possible use of selective service and alien laws, there remained avenues, of course, the chance that Lewis might recede from his heretofore adamant stand against the war labor board and that a compromise might be effected.

Mr. Roosevelt saw members of the AFL-CIO labor war board today, but members said afterward their meetings had no connection with the coal dispute.

There was evidence that the White House and James P. Byrnes, new war mobilization director, were working behind the scenes to bring the coal strike to a conclusion.

Nevertheless, Presidential Secretary Stephen Early said he assumed the war labor board's order that negotiations between the operators and miners be halted until men are back in the coal pits still stands.

Members of the combined labor war board met periodically with the President to consider all matters pertaining to labor in the war effort. There was no specific indication the Chief Executive would bring the coal dispute before it, although chances appeared to be good that he would go over the coal problems with the CIO and AFL leaders. The United Mine Workers have no representative on the board.

Those coming to the White House included William Green of the AFL, Philip Murray, CIO president, Julius Rosenberg, secretary-treasurer of the CIO Electrical Workers Union.

SENATE VOTES NEW TAX BILL

Measure Providing Pay-Go Deductions Now Ready for President.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, June 3.—American income taxpayers today awaited President Roosevelt's decision whether they should pick themselves up by the financial boot straps and become current on their bills with Uncle Sam.

Before the President is a compromise measure approved by overwhelming votes in both houses of congress which will put 44,000,000 persons on a pay-as-you-go basis.

This, and other major provisions will make collections current in this manner:

1. A full year's tax (the lesser of 1942 or 1943) will be abated for all persons who owe $50 or less, with a notch provision giving a $50 abatement to all up to $66.67. Only 75 per cent of the lesser of 1942 or 1943 taxes will be abated for others, who will be required to pay the remaining 25 per cent in two annual installments.

2. A 20 per cent withholding levy on wages and salaries, above basic exemptions, will go into effect July 1 for current collection of income and victory taxes.

EDSEL FORD'S WILL PROBATED

Tax May Not Exceed Twelve Million Dollars; Foundation Given Stock.

By The Associated Press
DETROIT, June 3.—The will of Edsel Bryant Ford was filed for probate today and, because it bequeathed the greater part of his Ford Motor Co. stock to the Ford Foundation, attorneys estimated estate inheritance and transfer taxes might not amount to much more than $12,000,000. Earlier reports, based solely upon conjecture, had placed the possible tax at as much as $200,000,000.

Attorneys said the estate itself probably would amount to $250,000,000.

Edsel Ford, only son of Henry Ford and now president of the Ford Motor Co., died last week at the age of 49.

The Ford Foundation, a non-profit corporation, was organized in 1936 for educational and other purposes. Gifts to organizations of its type are not taxable.

Family Shares
That portion of the Ford stock not bequeathed to the foundation is left in equal shares to Mrs. Eleanor Clay Ford, the widow, and each of the four children—Henry Ford II, Benson Ford, Mrs. Walter Buhl Ford II and William Clay Ford. The widow is made executrix.

The Ford Motor Co. is capitalized at $100,000,000—20,000,000 shares at $5 a share, of which but 3,432,000 shares were outstanding as of Sept. 1, 1942. Ninety-five per cent of the company stock, known as "Class A," is non-voting; 5 per cent, known as "Class B," is voting stock.

Latest available data indicate Henry Ford held 55 per cent of the stock; Edsel Ford 41½ per cent and Mrs. Henry Ford 3½ per cent. Each held "Class B" stock in proportion to his or her holding of "Class A" stock.

Edsel Ford also owned or controlled

MARION SOLDIER IS PRISONER OF JAPS

Pvt. Patric Murphy Among 11 Ohioans on New List.

Pvt. Patric Murphy, 32, son of Miles S. Murphy of Fahey street and brother of Mrs. Guy Layman of 312 Davis street, is included among 11 Ohioans who are being held prisoners of war by Japan in an unstaffed camp, the War Department has announced, according to an Associated Press dispatch from Washington.

Pvt. Murphy, a ground mechanic in the air corps, was in the Philippine Islands when war broke out. He enlisted in the Army in 1929 when he was 17 years old and since has been stationed at Schofield Barracks, Hawaii, Randolph Field, Tex., Fort Raleigh, Kans., and the Philippine Islands.

He has been in the Philippines since 1937, and the last letter Mrs. Layman received three years ago was from Nichols Field. Mrs. Layman received a telegram from the War Department April 19 that he was a prisoner of the Japs.

Pvt. Murphy visited his sister for three months in 1936 and that was the last time she saw him.

He was born in Marion and attended Marion schools.

Another sister, Mrs. Alice Denison, resides in New Jersey.

More about meat rationing appears on Pages 2 and 18.

By The Associated Press
CLEVELAND, June 3.—The regional war labor board announced today a dispute between the Marion O. Rapid Transit Co. and the CIO transit workers union had been certified to the WLB.

Frederick H. Bullen, regional disputes director, said a hearing would be conducted at a date not yet determined and asked company and union representatives to maintain full public transportation service meanwhile. Notice of the certification was sent to Ray Maag, representative of the company, and J. J. Ryan, international representative, and George Augenstein of the union, the disputes director reported.

Women's Division Praised for Victory House Bond Sales

The "wonderful job" the women's division of the Marion county war savings committee has been doing under the direction of Miss Maude Gorman, who entered around activities at the Victory House of the courthouse lawn drew praise today from Elmer J. Schoenauer, county bond committee chairman.

For undertaking a task of this scope and donating hour after hour of service to the interests of the war effort, Chairman Schoenauer said he wished to give recognition to the outstanding work the women volunteers are doing.

He listed the Victory House sales by months, showing that May had ended, set a new record for the women's division, partially due to the handling of "new school" pupils through the Victory House in connection with the summer campaign. May sales amounted to $49,292.45.

Mrs. Harold C. Thomas, who regularly types the bonds when an unusually large number are to be prepared, had an unusually heavy task in May, writing approximately 600 bonds for Marion school pupils who turned in money for bonds.

Sales for other months were: December, $6,723.75; January, $14,466; February, $10,870; March, $26,235.50; April, $36,946.50.

Allies Frown On De Gaulle's Liking for Dictatorship

Little Sympathy Held for Sole Rule by Fighting French.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, June 3.—Joint American-British action to block any attempt of Gen. Charles De Gaulle to erect a virtual Fighting French dictatorship in Algiers was considered possible in diplomatic quarters here today.

Comment was withheld officially pending the outcome of General De Gaulle's negotiations with Gen. Henri Giraud, French commander in North Africa, in the hope that an executive committee would be formed as a practical symbol of political unity.

But if General De Gaulle used the negotiations, or the committee, to set himself up as sole political chief, it was believed possible the British would withdraw their financial support, a subsidy said to exceed American lend-lease aid to General Giraud's forces.

Lend-lease Administrator Edward R. Steiiffus Jr. yesterday reported medicine, food, clothing and other civilian supplies valued at $25,000,000 had been sent to French North Africa. For this, General Giraud, our only lend-lease cash customer, already has sold $25,000,000 as well as sending a substantial amount of raw materials to Britain and the United States.

Some observers in the statement here privately voiced concern at the reported political confusion in North Africa, which they called a "regrettable mess" that might

Miners Want Contract, Not Truce, in Wage Dispute

By The Associated Press
PITTSBURGH, June 3.—Striking coal miners in sections of Pennsylvania and West Virginia, discussing prospects of returning to the pits they abandoned three days ago, said today they would rather go back under a definite working contract than under a truce pending settlement of their wage dispute.

President Robert Ross of the Hamphill, W. Va., local of the United Mine Workers, said he voted to adhere to the union position of "no contract, no work." The local has 750 members.

In Pennsylvania, Andrew Matone, president of UMW local 224 at Harwick, said:

"Our men want a contract. They are tired of this off and on business. I wouldn't be surprised if they would even refuse to go back under another truce."

"We're not going back this time," he promised.

George Polovsky, a coal cutter, given at Fairbank, near Uniontown, as he leaned on the back yard fence he was repairing.

"If I do anything, the government won't let me do it but I won't work for nothing," said Polovsky. "We went back before without a contract but I don't see how it'll do us any good now unless we get something definite."

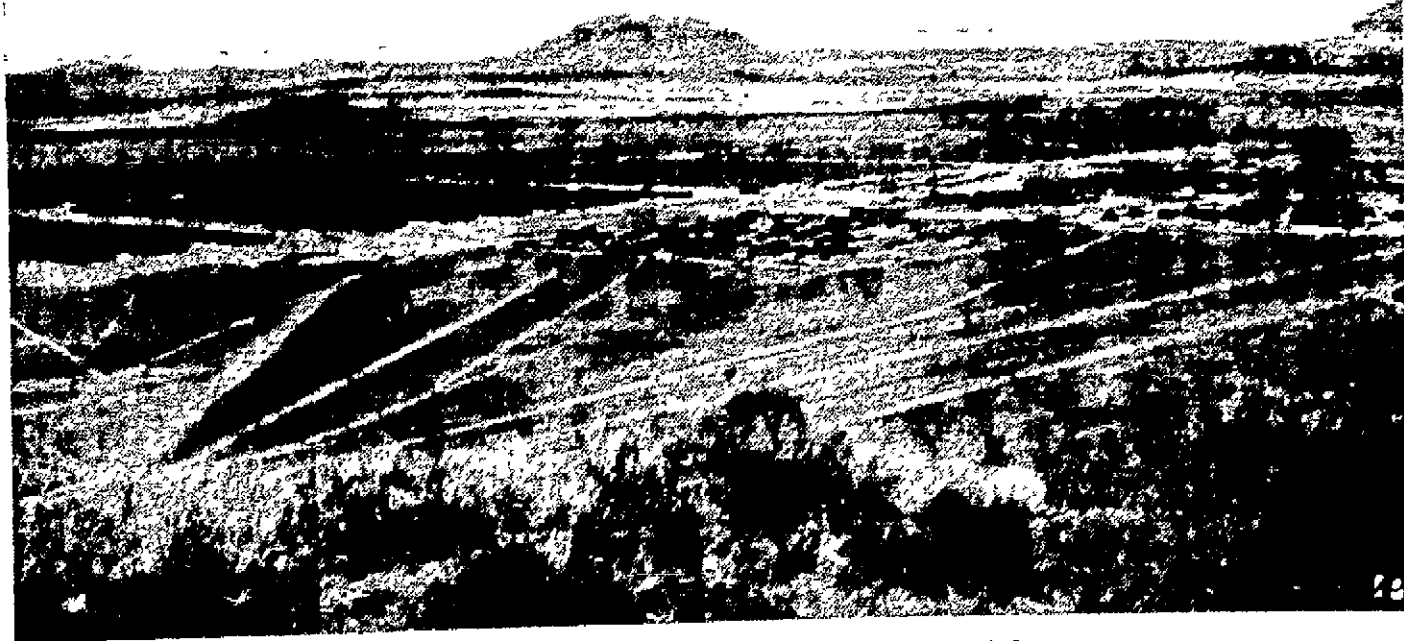

Some others said the same thing in different ways.

"The people might say we're unpatriotic but we're only trying to bring this thing to a head," said Joseph Conroy, a neighbor of Polovsky. "We're as patriotic as any other person living in this country and all we want is enough money to get us through."

Conroy has four sons in the service.

FOURTH OF EARNINGS IN BONDS IS GOAL

Morgenthau Reveals New Aim of Treasury.

By The Associated Press

NEWARK, N. J., June 2.—The budget of the average American family is due for an overhauling by the end of this year, when Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau says each family should be investing one-fourth of its income in war savings bonds if it is to carry its share of the war's financial burden.

At the same time, a withholding tax of 20 per cent on salaries probably will be imposed, but the increased purchase of war bonds by individuals "is not too much to expect," he said yesterday at a press conference.

The withholding tax, he pointed out, would be applied to income over and above exemptions and would in many cases be only a few per cent of the total income. For example, a man with a wife and two children would be allowed the exemption of $1,248 for a couple and $312 for each child; if his salary were $2,400, the withholding tax would apply only to the remainder and would be less than 4 1/2 per cent of the $2,400.

The withholding tax is to become effective July 1 if President Roosevelt approves legislation imposing it which now is before him.

Launching a nationwide streamlining of the war bond sales campaign, Morgenthau said the treasury expects "a little resistance" in bond sales when the withholding tax became effective, but that it felt this would melt away when the situation was better understood.

"Of the 45 billions still necessary to complete our war financing needs for 1943," he said, "at least 18 billions, or almost 25 per cent of the national income for the remainder of the year, should come from purchases of bonds by individuals."

AXIS LEARNS BAD NEWS ABOUT U. S. SHIP OUTPUT

Production Far Exceeds Losses to U-Boats.

WASHINGTON, June 3.—The Navy's submarine arm and the shipbuilding maritime commission fed the axis a bitter dose of information about the war on the high seas yesterday.

Rear Admiral Howard L. Vickery, chief of the commission's strategic construction program, announced U. S. merchant ship building now exceeds losses—175 vessels of 1,782,000 deadweight tons went down the ways in May, a new record. This followed War Mobilization Director James F. Byrnes' report that building was running four times greater than sinkings.

At the same time the Navy disclosed U. S. submarines had destroyed seven Japanese ships, including a destroyer. The communique late Tuesday described the other victims as one large tanker, a large cargo ship, two medium-sized cargo ships, one small cargo ship and a medium-sized transport. A big tanker was damaged and probably sunk.

Vickery also revealed that production of victory ships would start next spring on the west coast. From 400 to 500 are scheduled for delivery in 1944.

MASS OF COLD AIR CAUSE OF FLOODS

Atmospheric Conditions Noted in Mid-West.

The Associated Press
CHICAGO, June 3—The which caused disasin the midwest and states last month,
bureau said today,
an unusual atmos-
—the stagnation
over the area.
masses move from
in a fairly continuous in May, an ex-dense, cold polar ward from the western Canadian provinces over the northwestern states and extended to the central great plains and upper Mississippi valley.

To the southwest and south-eastward of this polar mass, another mass of tropical air from the south moved in and the entire system became stagnant on a line extending roughly from lower Lake Huron and Michigan southwesterly to the Texas border.
The warm, moist, tropical air flowed up over the colder, denser, polar air, whereby the temperature was reduced to the condensation point and heavy rains ensued.
The heaviest rains, the bureau reported, occurred over a rather narrow belt from central Indiana and Illinois southwestward to central Oklahoma, where some weather stations reported a total rainfall between May 5 and May 22 of more than 12 inches.

This exceeded any previous rainfall of record for any month in some localities.
Latest reports to the weather bureau indicate that the period of stagnation is over and the cold air mass is dissipating.
Preliminary reports to the weather bureau indicate the May rainfall in Ohio was 176 per cent of normal.

Cong. Smith Says Full Meaning of Parley Not Told

By CONG. F. C. SMITH

Congressman Frederick C. Smith of Marion, representing the 11th Ohio district, is at Hot Springs, Va., where the United Nations food conference is now in session. He has announced he will remain there until the close of the conference to observe the proceedings as best he can. Although he has not yet returned, he has received from Congressman Smith a series of mail reports of the proceedings of the conference.

HOT SPRINGS, Va., June 3—Up until the time of the convening of the United Nations Conference on Food and Agriculture, the country was told this would be a purely consultative meeting. It was to concern itself not with any immediate food question but some sort of post-war, long-range food problem.

The public was led to believe the conference would consider only questions of food and agriculture, make such recommendations as it might care to, disband and the delegates return to their respective countries and leave the congress to take such action as it might care to take.

But this does not seem to be what is taking place. It is being planned to continue the body, assemble again somewhere under the term "United Nations Interim Commission on Food and Agriculture." By changing the word "interim" to "permanent," it is expected to give the body more the appearance of a permanent governmental agency of a permanent character, representative of the peoples of the world.

Furthermore, it has been definitely proposed that the body be finally made permanent.

Still we are being told here that it will be up to congress, that it alone has the final say in the matter, that only by the "democratic process" to which that serves as well the needs of politicians would it be possible to put into operation this program.

May it not be that by the time congress would be called upon to consider the matter to many direct acts would already be committed, so much machinery would already be in operation and the minds of the people would be so thoroughly conditioned for the reception of the scheme that it would be difficult for congress to do anything but go along with it?

Furthermore, congress would not be asked to give legal sanction to the program as a whole. It would be asked only to consider it piecemeal, bit by bit, thus committing the nation step by step to the completed plan of the super-state.

But above all, is not the attitude of congress now one that is amenable to giving favorable consideration to the initiation of this scheme? The word "food" is now a magic word, and may soon be, if it is not already, the most important word in the world.

The promoters of the super-state shrewdly selected food as the rallying cry for carrying out their designs. The propaganda is already being spread here at the Food Conference that whoever opposes anything the starry-eyed political planners desire is against eating and wants people to starve to death.

REVOLUTIONARY ENGINE TO COME AFTER WAR

New Power Plant Will Drive Planes and Locomotives.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, June 3—Development of revolutionary power plant to drive planes and locomotives is virtually assured in the post-war world, an engineering executive predicted today.

M. W. Smith, vice president in charge of engineering for Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Company, said in an article published in Electric Light and Power, a trade magazine, that the turbine, capable of utilizing expanding gases to produce a continuous form of power, may be the "NE" of a new transportation age.

"One might predict," Smith said, "that in the post-war world the gas turbine operating at high speeds will be made light enough to drive our commercial and cargo plane propellers through suitable gears."

The engineer observed that a high-speed gas turbine "offers the possibility of another form of motive power for locomotives, using either mechanical or electrical drives and transmissions."

A steam turbine-driven locomotive, with the turbine geared directly to the drivers of the wheels, has been designed and soon will be manufactured for experimental tests, Smith disclosed.

Smith said that the turbine, capable of utilizing expanding gases to produce a continuous form of power, may be the "NE" of a new transportation age.

"One might predict," Smith

Farm Woman To Win Ship Christening Honor

The best letter telling a woman's story of wartime use of electricity on the farm will win for the writer an all-expense-paid trip to a shipyard to christen a Liberty Ship to be launched about the middle of July, W. C. Ewing, manager of the United Rural Electric at Kenton, O., announced today.

Mr. Ewing invited women on farms obtaining electric service from the REA-financed system to submit letters telling what they have done to increase food production for the war.

The Liberty Ship christening ceremony will be sponsored by the Rural Electrification Administration, in cooperation with the U. S. Maritime Commission and other agencies of the government. REA Administrator Harry Slattery and other high dignitaries will be on the program, which will have food production and food transportation as its major theme, with special emphasis on the farm woman's part in the war.

All letters submitted by farm women of this section should be addressed to United Rural Electric, 110 South Detroit street, Kenton, O., and the best will be forwarded to the committee which will select the woman who will have the honor of christening the SS J. D. Ross.

Bombing Tactics Point Toward Invasion of Italy Before Northern Europe.

By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, June 2.—The Axis air forces in Italy have been very busy in the last few days. They have been bombing the Italian coast and the Italian cities. They have been bombing the Italian coast and the Italian cities. They have been bombing the Italian coast and the Italian cities.

Today and Tomorrow

Need Seen for an "About Face" in U. S.
Dealings with French.

By WALTER LIPPMANN

MUCH will depend now and in the future upon the ability of this country to judge correctly the movement in French affairs. Unless we can do this, we shall incur the risk of becoming estranged from the vital elements of the French nation. The consequences may be very serious.

They may complicate in some degree the immediate problems of the military command. They are almost certain to make much more difficult the problems of the transitional period between the ousting of the Germans and the establishment of a French government. They could produce a civil confusion in liberated France which would prove to be a formidable obstacle to reconstruction.

Our French policy has been vitiated by the radical error of our diplomatic agents in failing to understand and therefore to report correctly to the state department and to the White House the dominating and ascending importance of the national movement which has rallied around Gen. Charles de Gaulle. As a result we find ourselves with a French policy which is not based on the realities.

Base of Errors
The situation cannot be corrected unless we begin by fixing it clearly in our minds that the root of the error is not that we recognized and dealt with Vichy, nor that we made a deal with Darlan, but that while we were doing these necessary and expedient things we did not understand, did not cultivate and genuinely support and after a while we became infected with personal animosity against the leaders of the movement of French national resistance. In this there are the makings of a tragedy for France.

Family Undisturbed

By The Associated Press
FORT ATKINSON, Wis.—Gas & Electric Co. service men "topped" a big tree in front of the Dr. C. W. Umland residence yesterday. In the top of that tree was a robin's nest and in that robin's nest were two little robins. Did the workmen top the tree and destroy the nest and the little birds? They did not. They took that nest out of the top of that large tree and placed it in a smaller tree, and used it as a bird house. You guessed it, the mother bird found the new location of her nest and began feeding the young as though nothing had happened.

SECOND FRONT OFFENSIVE

... By Air Or By Land?

AIR—Some airmen believe bombers can blast Germany to make land invasion little more than a formality. RAF Air Marshal Harris estimates that to send 1,000 bombers into the air nightly would require flying crews of 18,000, ground crews of 500,000.

LAND—A conservative estimate is that at present at least 500,000 men would be required to secure continental footholds; that five million—plus the Russians—would be needed to defeat Germany.

OR BOTH—Military observers say that as bombers soften up Europe, the needed land army strength will go down, but that in any event at least 500,000 soldiers will be required to invade and hold.

Associated Press Features
Prime Minister Winston Churchill has expressed a willingness to try this experiment of bombing Germany into submission. What this would mean in terms of manpower—as compared with a land offensive now and later—is shown above.

From News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO
It was Saturday, June 3, 1933. A news report from Columbus said E. C. Callahan, city finance director of Akron and a former Marion man, was considered by Governor White for appointment as Ohio director of finance.

Commenting on the senate investigation being conducted into banking affairs of J. P. Morgan & Co., including recently announced lists of prominent persons on "perforated lists" who were given opportunity to buy stocks at less than their publicly quoted prices, Will Rogers said in his daily news comment, "I'll tell you how Mr. Morgan can square this whole thing, and you will never hear another word against him. That's by simply putting everybody on the preferred list that wasn't on it already. I haven't heard a kick, only by those that were overlooked."

Miss Adele Johnson of Hot Springs National Park, Ark., arrived for a visit with Mrs. John D. Owens of East Center street. Mrs. Ida Light and Miss Eve Brooks of West Center street returned from a visit with relatives at Radcliffe, O.

James Mattern took off from Floyd Bennett field, New York, in an attempt to make a solo flight around the world.

Officers headed by Donald Harold of East Walnut street as master councillor were elected by Marion Chapter, Order of DeMolay.

One of a series of parties at Columbus was given for Miss Florence Matthias, daughter of Judge and Mrs. Edward W. Matthias, who was to become the bride of James F. Merkel of Marion.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Ray Weston of near Marion.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Sunday, June 3, 1922. Dr. L. L. Strick delivered his farewell sermon at the First Presbyterian church, ending a pastorate there of nearly 10 years. His text was: "Finally, brethren, farewell. Be perfected; be comforted; be of the same mind; live in peace; and the God of love and peace shall be with you." The sermon was given preliminary to his leaving for his new pastorate at Punxsutawney, Pa.

Rev. M. L. Buckley resigned as pastor of the Central Christian church.

Nineteen members of the 1923 graduating class of Harding High school who were members of the Trinity Baptist Sunday school were honored with a special program given at the church.

Farm Labor on Mend

Problem Not Solved, But Situation Improving.

By JACK STINNETT
WASHINGTON, June 3.—This may be the kind of speculation agriculture and labor officials won't like, since they are in the midst of a vast recruiting program for a land army to work the farms, but if things keep on at the present rate farm labor is going to be one of the least of our war problems.

I don't mean that some sections won't be hard hit when harvest comes, because farm labor is primarily a seasonal and seasonal matter that can only be taken care of by a surplus of labor on hand or itinerant laborers who move with the crops.

But there is every indication that the bottom of the scarcity of farm labor has been reached and that the swing-back is moving rapidly now.

Draft Policy Helps

Under selective service orders, deferment of farm labor is now being recognized as a necessity. Drafting of essential farm laborers has virtually ceased.

Secondly, farm workers who flocked to industry to get some of those seemingly fabulous wages have discovered the truth of the old adage about all is not gold, etc. High rents, poor but costly food, and in many instances appalling living conditions have resulted in a back-to-the-farm movement that has caused numerous squawks from war industry management. To what extent this is taking place can't be determined positively yet, but some observers here think it is nationwide and likely to grow in volume.

Hep Catting

It's Big Business 'and We're for It 100 Per Cent. Contrary to Any thing Psychiatrists Say.

By DAMON RUNYON

THE hep cat, sometimes called "litter," one of my favorite figures of American life in the current, I think he (she) is comparable much to the gaudy of the past. I can prove that as an economic proposition he (she) is enormously valuable.

I have them a $100,000,000 industry. Let me show you how.

The hep cat produced five million cats. The hep cat was evolved to fit the needs of the cat. The cats were making those who owned them that was inappropriate, they were tailored to their talents.

Well, when the hep cats are responsible for a large number of bands employing hundreds of musicians, I believe the number of cats has tripled since the advent of the cat. Obviously, these bands, in normal times, pay the manufacturers of musical instruments a million dollars.

The popularity of a band today depends largely upon its following of the cats. Most bands have some following of the cats. The bands have put millions and millions of dollars of new business into the music industry in the past few years, with the flood of money at hand now right now because of the cats. You have to credit a lot of that money to the cats.

THERE are hundreds of dance emporia throughout the land that represent a big investment and are supported mainly by cats. Phonograph record makers and manufacturers are in the hep cat business before the war. The candy and soft drink producers get their, and of course the makers of chewing gum, if I may judge by the number of wads I have picked up in my shoes in the vicinity of movie houses, are bands favored by the cats were in bloom.

But even that does not lessen my enthusiasm for the cats. I think they mark the beginning of a new era of music and dance in our history. A real lively cat represents to me complete and fully the only thing I now envy any person in this world—youth. I got real annoyed, I might say, reading a sort of velvet knicker, my hep cats by a psychiatrist who undertakes to explain them scientifically.

I did not mind him until he put the cat away as a sociological problem and got it mixed up in his discourse and said the manifestations of the cats may have some bearing on the present national delinquency among youth. He said he had seen the same sort of delinquency in the last war, but I reckon he did not know that we are now working on the second generation of cats.

THE first generation is in the service, you can see if you drop in at any dance hall patronized by soldiers or sailors. The cats are endeavoring to preserve their life, but I suppose drilling takes some muscularity of the boys.

They do not seem as agile as their brothers and sister cats who are still clad in the name bands from one movie house to another. Half the war has been won by the hep cats, so let us not worry too much about them as a sociological problem.

My elder readers will probably recall seeing similar guff about the consequences of jazz. All the shortcomings of the kids used to be laid to jazz. We had what was known as the jazz age. Before that it may have been the ragtime age, but that was deemed harmful to you. In fact, long years ago indulgence in by singing to the point of ecstasy was considered a bad thing for the young and the old, too.

On enumerating the economic benefits of hep cats, I forgot to mention the income to manufacturers of those trick coats of various colors that the bandmen wear, though I understand the pants makers do even better. This because of the wear and tear on the pants, especially the seats, due to the way the band wags their pistol pockets when they making with the jive.

The problem of the United States after war will not be "what can I sell," but "what must I not sell." America must buy back to the volume of her exports. There are number of basic exports which rank long before motor cars, cotton, tobacco, wheat and m.—Lord Perry, British radio manufacturer magnate.

Our Heroic Dead

Of 243,446 men lost in battle between Revere's ride and Pearl Harbor, three-fourths were killed in the War Between the States, the National Geographic society. Union killed 110,070; Confederate, 74,524. The do not include the thousands who died of disease or other causes.

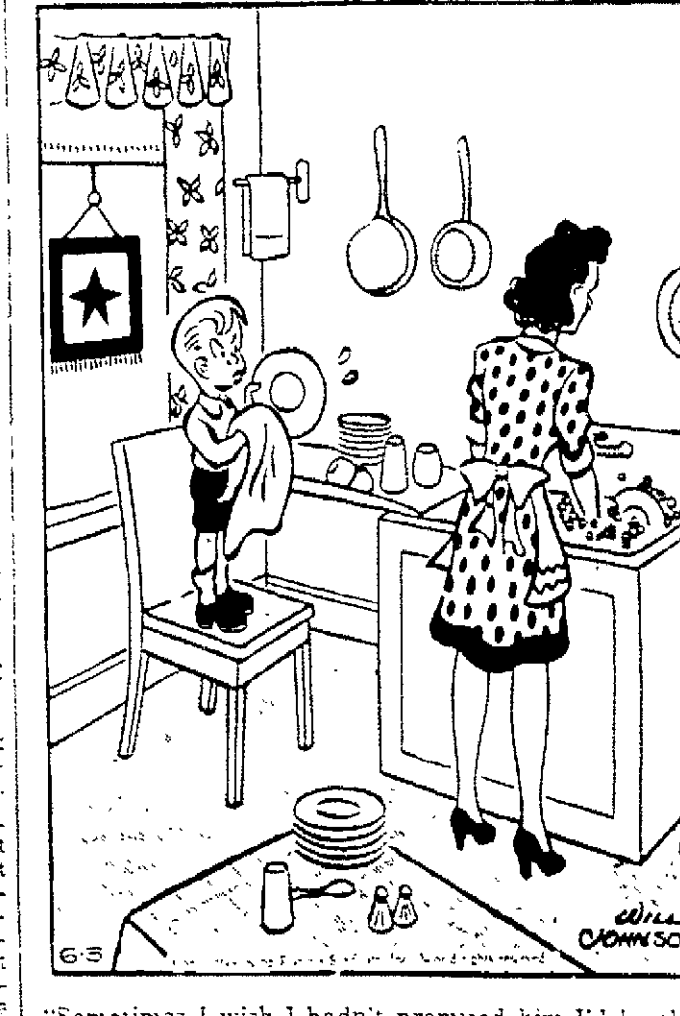

The World War total was 50,510 American men lost in actual combat. The navy lost 871 men and the marines 2,457.

During the eight years of the Revolutionary war, 4,044 men were lost. This loss in total population is as great as the loss of 131 men would be in the present war—about every thousand.

The War of 1812 took 1,677 men, both land and naval action. The high tide of war was the Battle of New Orleans in 1815. Americans, under Andrew Jackson, lost men. The British lost 700.

In the Mexican war, 1,721 men were killed in action. Lightest loss of life resulted in Spanish-American war, in which both army and navy men perished.

As a yardstick to hold against these losses, the army has just announced that in six-month North African campaign 2,353 Americans were killed. By mid-May 1942 had their lives in the present war. Pearl Harbor alone accounted for nearly as great a loss of army and navy personnel as the Mexican Spanish-American wars.

In keeping with the colors chosen by the 1943 senior class—red, white and blue—the decorations were in a patriotic theme. At one end of the hall was a huge figure of "Uncle Sam" done by John Bryans, a senior, and suspended from a side wall was a large United States shield, done by Patricia Bryans. A fashioned of red, white and blue crepe paper interlaced the walls around the dance floor and suspended from the center of the hall were flags of the allied nations. American flags caught to the columns completed the decorative theme.

Lead Grand March
Charles Elliott, president of the junior class, with Betty Lee, costumed in a full, flowered print skirt, topped with an all-white bodice accented with beading of black velvet ribbon at the neck and on the short, puffed sleeves, and wearing gardenias, led the grand march. Next in line were Keith Williams, president of the senior class, with Violet Sherman who was gowned in a yellow net costume with which she wore gardenias.

The young women were lovely in their gowns of white, pastels and vivid colors, and flowers were worn on shoulders, as hair arrangements and as wrist corsages. Hair-does were varied, some choosing the new up-sweep style which was most becoming and others looking equally as smart with long bobs. The young men looked their handsomest in dress which ranged from tails to sport.

A white lace gown fashioned on princess lines and accented with black bows on the skirt was worn by a tall blonde, and a striking costume worn by a dark-haired miss had a gold taffeta basque with a Roman stripe seersucker full skirt. Her orchid was tied with a silver ribbon. A petite miss in an all-over printed organdy gown with puffed sleeves wore a gardenia in her hair and an orchid to complete her costume. Bands of red insertion trimmed the white net costume of another dancer while another chose a black lace basque to complete her full skirt of soft blue. Most fetching was the candy-strip costume of a dainty miss and red and white carnations were worn as a headress by a striking brunette whose costume was black and white, made princess-style. A rose-colored glazed print splashed with huge flowers was interesting. Blue mousseline de soie with black lace was given quaintness with a band of black ribbon worn instead of a necklace and a blonde miss in a billowy black skirt with a white basque left it to her orchid to provide a touch of color to her costume.

Miss Arlene Luetken, a member of the senior class, sang a number with the orchestra, and entertainment during the intermission was furnished by Mary Lee Cornelius, Blues singer, and Euel Taylor, tap dancer, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. James F. Coffey.

Dancing was from 10 until 12 o'clock and afterward the young people went to Columbus and other nearby cities to celebrate the occasion.

Serving on committees for the dance were the following: Orchestra, Homer E. Huffman, advisor, Ann Wiedemann, chairman, Richard Moore, Charles Fazio, Marjorie Volk, Donna Myers, hall, Miss Margaret Wolfley, advisor, Eleanor Swain, chairman, Donna Hunter, Vernon Orth, Marlon Price, Wilma Ler, decoration, Miss Isabelle Stamp, advisor, Elizabeth Zuppan, chairman, Bill Hime, Jane Young, Russell Harriott, Betty Merchant, entertainment, Miss Elsie Coffman, advisor, John Gast, chairman, Robert Virden, Beulah Rae Bull, Phyllis Lewis, Jack Koepf, refreshments, Miss Pauline Starnard, advisor, Robert Blake, chairman, Garnet Jones, Richard Grigsby, Vivian Loyer, Jim Erick, tickets and programs, Russell Duns, advisor, Stewart Young, chairman, Betty Lee, Frank Louck, Donna Pickett, Glenn Cornelius, invitations, Miss Minnie Winder, advisor, Rex Kilbourn, chairman, Edward Breithaupt, Eileen Clark, Lawrence Daly, Alice Marquis, reception, Russell Dunlap, advisor, Charles Elliott, chairman, Bill Williams, Arlene Hill, Rex Kilbourn, Phyllis Lewis, Frank DeSanto, Betty Bend.

COUNCIL AT BUCYRUS ABOLISHES POSITION

Salary Adjustment Also Made in Ordinance.

Special to The Star
BUCYRUS, June 3—Abolishing the job of water works superintendent which formerly paid a salary of $1,210, Bucyrus city council Tuesday night gave the first reading to a new salary ordinance for service department employees designed to meet changing conditions brought about by war-time man shortage.

The ordinance also changed the title of senior service men and meter reader to the position of senior service man, the position formerly in effect provided for one now held by Roy Rues. No change in the salary was provided.

The salary of chief clerk was boosted from $1,020 to $1,130 and laborers in the department were placed at a sliding rate from 50 to 70 per hour for the classes A, B, C and D. The salary ordinance formerly in effect provided for one driver at 70 per hour and two assistants at 70 per hour.

The new ordinance also abolished the job of superintendent of streets, formerly held by W. O. Denny, now serving as service director.

Council also was given a favorable report from the finance committee on the proposed resurfacing of North Sandusky avenue which is estimated to cost the city one-third of the total cost of $19,000, the balance to be assumed by the state highway department.

LABOR LAW AUTHOR BLASTS COAL STRIKE

Wagner Denounces Interruption of War Effort.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, June 3.—With-out mentioning the name of John L. Lewis, Senator Wagner (D-N.Y.) told the senate today that a "labor leader" has uttered "a cruel blasphemy of the most sacred right of free labor" in calling the national labor relations act in justification of a "most irresponsible and disastrous" work stoppage.

Senator Wagner, president of the United Mine Workers, issued a statement yesterday saying the war labor board's demand that collective bargaining cease until the miners are back at work was "a malicious interference with the national labor relations act, which Wagner introduced."

Senator Wagner's criticism was delivered during his explanation of a proposed social security bill which he said would benefit every American family and which have the endorsement of CIO and AFL leaders.

"Late yesterday," Wagner said, "another labor leader invoked a law which bears my name, the national labor relations act, to justify the most irresponsible and disastrous stoppage of work in a key war industry since the war began."

"I am using this first opportunity to repudiate and denounce the assertion that the magna carta of American labor, the law which guarantees the most sacred freedom of the American workers to associate with his fellows under our democracy, justifies or approves an action undermining the war effort."

"I say the statement of this labor leader is a cruel blasphemy of the most sacred rights of free labor guaranteed under the labor relations act."

"The right to strike is part of the liberty we are fighting for. The labor act preserves that liberty. But there is nothing in the act which says that labor cannot agree not to strike during a war, or voluntarily put restraints on its customary privileges to lend its full strength in a democratic war."

"I do not think congress or the country should hold responsible for this action the great mass of labor and their cooperative, patriotic leadership. It would be a tragic mistake to pass hasty legislation as an expression of justified resentment over the irresponsible course of one leader in one controversy."

Epworth and Greenwood Win Openers in Softball League

The 1943 season opened last night for Sunday School league softball teams as Epworth downed St. Mary's 6 to 2 at Garfield park and Greenwood swamped Presbyterian 17 to 0 on the Lincoln park diamond.

Pitcher Milburn Donough of Greenwood set the Presbies down with only scattered hits as his team ran up 17 runs in a wild scoring spree. Biggest Greenwood spurge was in the fifth inning when nine tallies crossed the plate against Presbyterian.

The Sunday School league this year is composed of only the four teams that played yesterday. A great majority of the individual players in the Sabbath-school are of high school age and some even younger. Although the initial contests of the season for the church teams were played on Wednesday night, hereafter all games in that league are scheduled on Monday nights with industrial-commercial loop teams playing on Tuesday and Thursday nights.

Score by innings for the Sunday school games last night:
Epworth 102 003 0—6
St. Mary's 000 110 0—2
Batteries: Epworth—Hart and Partlow, St. Mary's—O'Neil and Moran.
Greenwood 070 091 0—17
Presbyterian 000 000 0—0
Batteries: Greenwood—M. Donough and R. Donough, Presbyterian—Lawther and Zuck.

DECLARES FOOD PARLEY DRAWS WAR'S END NEARER

Soviet Delegate Sees Allied Strength Increased.

By The Associated Press
HOT SPRINGS, Va., June 3.—A. D. Krutikov, Soviet Russia's chief delegate to the United Nations food conference, declared today at the parley's closing session that the conference had increased the fighting strength of the allies by further strengthening their collaboration, and thus "brought nearer the victorious termination of the war."

Krutikov also asserted the conference, by creating an interim commission to formulate plans for a permanent organization, had "laid a firm foundation for the future collaboration of nations in the field of food and agriculture."

Another speaker, Dr. C. P. Kuo, chairman of the Chinese delegation, declared everything "we had hoped to accomplish at this conference has been accomplished and under most happy conditions."

Tribute to conference chairman Marvin Jones was paid by Juan Carlos Muniz, chairman of the Brazilian delegation, who said his leadership was largely responsible for "the success attained by the conference."

POINT COST CHANGED ON PROCESSED FOOD

Tomato Juice Cut in Half; Others Also Lowered.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 4.—The OPA cut tomato juice ration point cost in half today, announcing however, that all other current blue coupon values are expected to stand unchanged for another month.

The tomato juice cut—which applies also to other vegetable juices—containing 74 per cent of more tomato juice—is effective Sunday morning. The new value is two points a pound—which comes to three points for a No. 2 size can and four points for a 46-ounce can. This was the second sharp cut on tomato juice, both prompted by low sales.

Paul M. O'Leary, deputy administrator in charge of rationing said point changes would be made in the future only once a month, "to ease the burden of rationing."

A new schedule of meat point values, which are one to three points a pound higher on most beef cuts, also goes into effect Sunday.

Never Tardy Nor Absent is Record of Marion Girl

A perfect attendance record throughout her 12 years of grade and high school is the enviable record of Beatrice Jane Leeper, a member of this year's graduating class at Harding High school. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Leeper of 554 Mount street.

In addition to not being absent nor tardy during the 12 years she also has chalked up honors for herself as a student and her grade cards show straight A's in most subjects. Grades for both semesters of her senior year include A's in English, American government, Senior Science and short-hand, and her typing grades were B for the first semester and A for the second semester. Other straight A's in her school work include world history, bookkeeping, American history and geography.

History is her pet study and if she goes to college that will be one of her majors. She took her junior work at Thomas A. Edison school and activities included parts in the Freshman, sophomore and junior plays. She was excused from study in December this year when she gave a blood transfusion for her brother, Conway Leeper, now a student at Edison. After the operation she returned to class without being marked absent. In addition to her school record Beatrice Jane has a Sunday school record of being present in class every Sunday for the last 10 years at the Oakdale Evangelical church. Swimming is the recreation she enjoys most and right at the moment she is undecided whether to go to college or get a job.

"Thus Always to Tyranny" is the state motto of Virginia. The rhododendron is the state flower of Washington.

Supplies Are Maintained in War Zones.

The carbonated beverage industry is making every effort to bolster the morale of our service men by keeping them supplied with their favorite soft drinks.

The results of a survey made by the office of war information pointed out that the best selling beverages in and around Army camps are soft drinks, coffee, malted milk and milk. In one camp, 160,000 bottled soft drinks were sold in only one month at just a fraction of the regular price.

Service men abroad have been known to trade valuable battle souvenirs for just one bottled soft drink. In certain locations near battle fronts, soft drink bars are maintained. For instance, there is one set up in a jungle near Darwin, Australia, which is the delight of United States soldiers who gather there to be refreshed by a soft drink and chat with their buddies.

Lt. Gladys Meister, an Army nurse who recently returned to this country aboard an American hospital ship carrying war casualties, said American soldiers battling the axis in North Africa are clamoring for soft drinks, hamburgers and malted milks to supplement their Army rations.

Steel wool has gone to war, and food still sticks to pots and pans. Prompt soaking in soapsuds will usually soften it sufficiently for easy removal with the dish cloth.

Vermont's state flower is the red clover.

12,500 Tons of Bombs
Delivered to Nazis in May

By The Associated Press.
LONDON, June 3.—The RAF bomber command dropped approximately 12,500 tons of bombs on Germany in May, or 1,500 tons more than were tossed over the reich during April, Capt. Sir Harold H. Balfour, under secretary of state for air, told the house of commons yesterday.

"We look forward with confidence to being able to increase the supply of bombs delivered to Germany in due course," he added.

During the whole of 1941, the height of Hitler's attempt to bomb Britain from the war, the Nazis dropped 22,000 tons on England.

Makes All-Day
Standing Easy
On Your Feet

If you are on your feet all day—walking, standing, or sitting in front of a machine—your feet will be sore and tired. This is because your feet are not getting the right kind of support. The solution is to wear shoes that are built for all-day standing. They have a special insole that gives your feet the support they need. They are comfortable, durable, and they will keep your feet from getting tired. They are the only shoes that will make all-day standing easy on your feet.

A "dash mark" in Navy slang is a stripe denoting a completed enlistment.

Naval Specialist Now at Marion Recruiting Station

Ray W. Hudson, specialist first class in the U. S. Navy, who came to Marion recently from Toledo where he was stationed in the Toledo Navy Recruiting station, has been permanently assigned as a recruiter in the Marion station at 198 South Main street. His work will deal primarily with the enlistments of 17-year-olds, men 25 to 30 and the WAVES and SPARS. He enlisted in the Navy Nov. 15, 1942. With Mrs. Hudson he will make his home at 581 Universal street.

Hudson has been assisting at the local recruiting station for the last month. The crew now consists of John J. Dugan, chief petty officer; Richard J. Flanagan, seaman second class, and Specialist Hudson. Before coming to Marion a Toledo newspaper published a sketch of Hudson in which it described him as "small in stature but big in spirit." When he was not busy in his chosen profession of advertising he was directing a sandlot baseball team and participating in many other activities. He enlisted in the Navy because he "didn't want to miss any fun," the article states. Before enlisting he was with the Electric Auto-Lite Co. in charge of advertising production for the merchandising division.

Hudson skipped around the country before ending up in Toledo—Chicago, Cleveland, then Detroit. He was born in Nashville, also the home of Mrs. Hudson. He is one of a family of 12 children, six boys and six girls. An unusual fact about the family is that six of the children had brown eyes and the other six had blue eyes. Baseball has been his passion since he was 14 years old and he counts several big league players among his personal friends.

TWO GIVEN SENTENCES FOR HARBORING FUGITIVES

51,000 Fines and 6-Month Terms Imposed.

COLUMBUS, O., June 3.—Judge Mel G. Underwood yesterday imposed six-month sentences and fines of $1,000 each on Peter Joseph Smith, 47, of Williams-town, W. Va., and Mary Boyle, 33, alias Moe Williams, of Steubenville, for harboring Carl Straka, a fugitive postoffice robber, fatally wounded by federal agents at Hillsville April 23.

Mrs. Ella Smith, 47, Peter's wife, who also pleaded guilty to a harboring charge, was placed on probation for three years. Smith said Straka lives at his home but contended he was not aware the man was a fugitive.

Miss Boyle told the court she lived with Straka as man and wife for about four months at the home of another couple. She also knew Straka. Straka was arrested at Hillsville April 23. All three said they never saw a machine-gun or bottles of explosives the government contends the fugitive possessed.

William F. Donnelly, 57, of Steubenville and Charles Casca, 57, of Hillsville, previously received six-month sentences and $1,000 fines—the maximum sentences—for shielding Straka.

ERRORS DELAY WORK ON RATION BOOKS

About Half Bear Mistakes.
Official Declares.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, June 3.—The War Relocation Authority today announced that it had received reports from its field offices that about half of the ration books issued to Japanese-Americans in the United States were in error.

The authority said that the errors were of two kinds: first, the books were issued to the wrong persons; second, the books were issued in the wrong amounts.

The authority said that it was now working to correct the errors and that it expected to have the books issued within a few days.

The authority said that it was also working to correct the errors in the books issued to the Japanese-Americans in the United States.

GERMANS BELIEVED AFTER CHURCHILL

Attack Seen as Attempt Get Prime Minister.

LONDON, June 3.—Belief was voiced today in some quarters here that the Germans were planning for Prime Minister Churchill's death when they shot down the British bomber.

Reports said there was a great concentration of German planes in the Bay of Biscay—where the attack was seen as an attempt to get Churchill.

It might be assumed, experts here said, that the Germans were planning to get Churchill's death when they shot down the British bomber.

German controlled radio stations had put out various stories about the prime minister's death, but these were dismissed as rumors.

The missing British bomber was a Lancaster, which was shot down by German fighters.

How big should her diamond be?

Far more important than mere size is the quality of her diamond. . . . It's a matter of color, perfection in cutting and freedom from flaws. These make for brilliance and beauty far superior to the lower grade diamond of larger size.

Variety in Ham Recipes

By BETSY NEWMAN
It's a game, this making our ration go as far as possible. I've always been interested in seeing how far I could make it go. One time I bought a (land a fraction) pound sack of flour and kept track of all the different things I made with it. I made an impressive list. I like to do the same with a piece of meat. It is surprising how many different kinds of dishes you can get out of a fair-sized piece of meat, ham for instance.

from spiced fruit or 1 tsp. whole cloves, 1/4 c. brown sugar, 1 tsp. dry mustard.

Wipe ham with a damp cloth and put it in roasting pan and into the oven which has been preheated to 300 degrees F. for "ovenized" ham allow about 20 minutes cooking to the pound; for non-ovenized meat, allow at least 30 minutes a pound. An hour before the ham is to be done, pour over it the 1/4 cup spiced fruit juice and continue baking. Or take skin off, if it is still on, stick cloves in fat at intervals, then cover with brown sugar then with mustard, and return to oven to finish roasting. Or take 1/4 cup cider vinegar and 1/4 cup water, add 1/2 cup brown sugar, some mixed spices or 1/4 teaspoon whole cloves, cook for 10 minutes, then pour mixture over ham and continue roasting. Slice ham cold for next meal, also use in sandwiches. Make a ham omelet for lunch or dinner next, then serve some of the smaller, thin slices of ham on lima beans cooked in tomatoes. Diced and creamed the small pieces of ham are nice served over toast or baked potatoes; add a little dry mustard to the cream sauce for this. Small "chunks" of ham in scalloped potatoes. The small pieces of ham may also be cooked with rice. Here is the recipe:

Ham with Rice
Two tbsps. ham fat, 1 c. rice, 2 c. boiling water, 1 c. minced ham, 2 tbsps. prepared mustard, 2 tbsps. minced parsley.
Heat fat, add rice and stir over low heat 3 minutes, then add water, bring to boiling point, cover and simmer over low heat about 15 minutes, until rice is tender and water is almost absorbed. Add ham and mustard and stir lightly with fork so as not to break rice and ham is thoroughly mixed through rice. Put in serving dish and sprinkle with parsley.

Vet Dodgers Hang on to First Place

Cardinals Pound Their Pitchers, But Brooklyn Wins 3 to 2.

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

The St. Louis Cardinals may be the world's most popular team, but Manager Billy Southworth calls them "the underdog" and says, "but the Brooklyn Dodgers have to be the most dogged, determined and persistent in the major leagues."

This spring the Cardinals have played and it proved not to the advantage of all their fans in the National League.

The Dodgers haven't looked good, a collection of old players and new ones. No fewer than 17 of them were traded on the same afternoon this week by Dr. Robert Hyland.

Yet the Dodgers have held first place since the first day of the season and nothing the Cardinals have been able to do has been sufficient to dislodge them.

Last night they seemed ready to fall. The Cardinals had humiliated all the Dodgers' strongest, fastest pitchers and were within a half game of taking over the lead. Leo Durocher had to have a chance on the only left-handed he has on his staff, Max Jacobson.

Maxon still hasn't pitched a complete game, but he beat the Cardinals to even their four-game series and restored Brooklyn to a game and a half lead. The score was 3-2.

The Dodgers, with a revamped lineup, made nine hits off Lester, before he gave way to a pinch-hitter in the eighth.

Meanwhile, the American league scramble for first place became even closer than the National as the Chicago Yankees whipped the New York Yankees 2-1 and the Washington Senators quelled the Cleveland Indians 13-1 in a night game. This lumped the Yanks and Senators in a virtual tie for the lead.

Detroit held onto third place by beating the Philadelphia Athletics 7-2 behind five-hit hurling by Frank (Stubby) Overmire and the St. Louis Browns and Boston Red Sox divided another pair of extra inning games. The Browns took the first 7-2 in 12 innings and the Red Sox retaliated in the nightcap 3-2 in 10 innings with Yank Terry pitching four-hit ball.

In the National league Cincinnati walloped the New York Giants 13-6. The Pittsburgh Pirates came from behind in a night game to beat the Boston Braves 3-2 with three runs in the ninth inning.

The Phillies nosed out the Chicago Cubs 6-5 for Schoolboy Rowe, and now have beaten the Bruins seven times in eight games.

Vernon Kennedy Has Answers To Baseball Queries

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 2—You might say that Vernon Kennedy, Cleveland right-hander, is one of the old men creeping around in the big leagues, therefore he should be just the man to talk a lot on baseball during a wartime season.

And it's all right to say Kennedy has been around and knows what it is all about. This is his ninth season in the American league, and he has been with every club save Boston and New York since he came up from Oklahoma City of the Texas league in 1935.

In Kennedy's last start, Cleveland lost a one-run decision to the surprising Washington team, and that seemed like a logical place to start loosening him up.

"What's wrong with that Cleveland club anyway?" All of the sports writers say the Indians are the ones to beat the Yankees out.

"We aren't hitting, that's all there is to it," Kennedy replied sadly. "We've got the punch but it hasn't been coming at the right time. Too many men left on the bases."

"Our infield is the best in the league, but one bad play costs us a ball game every time."

"I haven't heard a single player get the ball about not being in the uniform of his country," Kennedy said of war time reaction in the bleachers. "The fans have been swell in that respect."

And the Players?

"Well, most of them expected to be in service by the middle of the summer, I'd guess," he said. "But it looks now as if the big leagues will complete the season, attendance has been so good."

REDS MEET BRAVES HOPING TO CONTINUE ON WINNING STREAK

Cincinnati Moves to 3rd Place After Whipping Giants 13 to 6.

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, June 2—The Cincinnati Reds, the National League's greatest ball team on week-days, will endeavor to keep up their winning streak tonight with such cooperation as they may be able to get out of the Boston Braves.

Johnny Vander Meer, who took a no-hitter from the Brooklyn Dodgers Sunday, is the Cincinnati pitcher, against either Jim Tobin or Nate Andrews.

Bucky Walters, the other Red ace, took a similar whaling from the New York Giants yesterday, but five Giant pitchers took a bigger one and the Reds took the ball game, 13 to 6. This raised the Reds to the eminence of third place and put them above the .500 mark.

The Giants had five runs off Bucky in the first two innings but Clyde Shoun calmed them for only one more the rest of the way. Meanwhile, the bloopers going for doubles and triples because of peculiarities of the atmosphere, all the Reds in the game got at least a hit apiece.

Frank McCormick and rookie catcher Al Lakeman led the parade, each getting four in five tries.

Bill Lohman, who pitched only one inning, was charged with the game.

HENRY ARMSTRONG, THE MAN WHO CAME BACK—THE FORMER FEATHERWEIGHT AND LIGHTWEIGHT KING MEETS SAMMY ANSOTT IN NEW YORK, JUNE 11

BASS SEASON.

Ohio anglers were all set for some good black bass fishing as the season opened in the southern zone June 1, with the opening date in the northern zone set for June 16.

Black bass, however, may not be taken in the Lake Erie district and in Pymatuning lake until July 1.

The legal length on black bass is 10 inches and the daily bag limit is six.

The early spring fishing got off to a great start in Ohio and Buckeye fishermen are hoping that from now on the weather man, who brought rain and cold weather for the greater part of May while they were attempting to catch other species while the bass was on bass, will favor them with good weather for all kinds of fishing, including the wily bass.

The taking of frogs in all waters and turtles in streams was prohibited at the same time as black bass, so that the opening of the season on frogs and turtles will coincide with the opening of the black bass season in each of the two Ohio bass zones.

The dividing line of the two black bass zones is a line formed by Route No. 35 from the Indiana state line to Chillicothe; Route No. 50 from Chillicothe to Athens; and Alternate No. 50 (Northern Route) from Athens to Marietta.

THREE KINDS OF PIKE PERCH.

A revised list of "The Fishes of Ohio" by E. L. Wickliff and Milton Trautman shows 171 kinds recorded for the Buckeye state.

Of this number the American pike perch make up three kinds, yellow pike perch, blue pike perch and sauger. The yellow pike perch is often called wall eye; pickering; dory; dore; glass eye; yellow pike; jack salmon; white eye and spike. The sauger is commonly called sand pike; gray pike of pickering. The yellow pike perch may readily be distinguished from the sauger by the large black blotch on the rear of the first fin on the back. In the sauger the front fin on the back does not contain a big black blotch but does have numerous small black spots scattered over the fin. The blue pike perch is character-

SNATCHES OF SPORTS

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

NEW YORK, June 2—"Speed-up" baseball sounds like a good idea to a lot of folks, but Prexy Will Harridge of the American league doesn't think it will work very well for one thing, the ump's can't do much but hurry the players along between innings and if they try to cut short the pitchers' stances on the mound, they're liable to hear a lot of pointed, ear-burning questions from the managers about whether they have a date that night... as for Billy Evans' plan of making a finger who is left on base go right to the mound without waiting the bench. Will thinks that when the weather gets really hot, Billy will find the boys need the breathing spell... besides, Harridge adds, "we played a night game in an hour and 29 minutes recently and the fans didn't get enough... They had to flick the lights a few times to start them moving out."

Pitfalls of Love

By ADELE GARRISON

OLINA LOOKED STAINED. "No, I know he didn't," she said, "but the words were in his handwriting."

"In what way?" she asked, and went back to the letter. "I need money desperately," she wrote. "I am asking you for any, I would die rather than do that. But I want you to help me in getting some of my own. I cannot leave the place where I am, and I do not wish to tell the benefactor who is helping me here why I wish the money. It is not my secret."

I looked up from the letter. "By 'benefactor' I suppose my father is meant," I said. "That is what I thought," Olina agreed, and I went on with the letter.

"I am enclosing an order describing you, and signed by the name, George Minot, under which I keep my funds in the bank. It authorizes you to draw out a large sum of money. If you will do this tomorrow, and then bring the money to the place I am going to describe, you will not only be saving my life, my lovely darling, but what is much dearer to me—my sacred honor."

I restrained a smile with the greatest difficulty, despite my anger at the attorney of the man who had written this epistle. He certainly was "going good," as Mary would say.

"Take a handbag with you," he wrote. "And ask to have the money given you in hills, none larger than a twenty. Pack the hills in your handbag, take a taxi straight to the Hotel—and sit down in the lounge as if you were waiting for some one. When a woman comes up to you, and says, 'Miss Minot?' you will say 'Yes,' and she will ask you to come with her. You will go up in the elevator with her to the seventeenth floor, and when the elevator has gone down again, you will give her the handbag. She will at once leave you, and you will go down again later in the elevator, and take a taxi back to your hotel."

"It will take but a few minutes, less than an hour, out of your life, but it will mean the saving of mine."

"I lift your lovely hands to my lips and kiss them tenderly, my

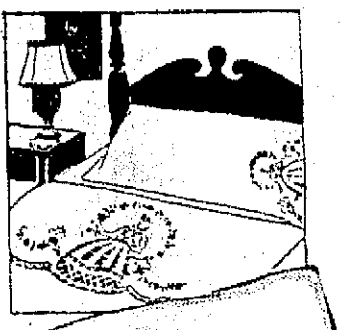

The Stars Say—

For Friday, June 4
According to the contradictory configurations in this day's astrological pattern, there may be some definite and unlooked-for crises to be met and manipulated. With tongue, temper, impulses and feelings under firm and unflinching control there is every promise of success and pleasant relations in both business and private life. Impetuosity and excess may provoke reprisals and restraint is indicated.

Those whose birthday it is may be confronted by a year in which happy and lucrative results depend a great deal upon the individual character and his temperamental or emotional control. With excess energies properly directed, and reasonable handling of the feelings and speech, serious dangers and regrets may be averted. Maintain calm.

A child born on this day may have excellent talents, high ideals, creative and romantic urges of note, but may prove its own undoing by its ungovernable emotions and impulses. Careful training will help.

Then too, symptoms have a way of falling into patterns and the doctor of wide experience can usually tell when the patient is drawing the long bow and when he is sticking strictly to the truth.

There is a series of articles which appear in the New England Journal of Medicine, which many of my professional friends read religiously, week by week. These are biographic accounts of a conference at the Massachusetts General Hospital in which the hospital record of the patient is read out and analyzed by a member of the staff.

The recent diagnosis is known, though the analyst has not been informed of it. In looking over several hundred of these lately, I noted that the largest part of the report was in every case devoted to the history and whatever else the analyst may have neglected, he spent a good deal of time in weighing the significance of the history, which is the patient's statement. He may have failed to comment on the X-ray or the laboratory findings or other records but he always paid respectful attention to the history.

As a final illustration, we may take the diseases of the digestive system. Early in the century the surgeons who opened up the abdomen to see what was the matter with people who had dyspepsia taught us that the most important feature of making a diagnosis was the patient's symptoms. For instance, the patient tells you that he has discomfort in relation to meals; meals do not increase his discomfort, but relieve it. He wakes up in the morning with some indigestion, which is relieved by breakfast. He is then comfortable until about 11, when his discomfort returns, relieved by lunch. It returns again about 3 in the afternoon, relieved by dinner, and may wake him up in the middle of the night so that he has learned to have a glass of milk by his bed to keep him comfortable through the sleeping hours. This history is repeated monotonously by patients with duodenal ulcer and all the X-rays and stomach washings and the machines on earth, if they contradict this history, are wrong.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Reader: Please discuss tetany, its symptoms and its cure. How does it differ from fits, or epilepsy?

Answer: This is a somewhat surprising question because tetany is very rare. Tetany is a condition of spasm of the muscles, especially of the arm, which is due to calcium deficiency in the blood. It develops in the course of rickets in children and during pregnancy and after delivery in women. In the case of rickets, the calcium deficiency comes from lack of vitamin D, with consequent inability to utilize calcium. In pregnancy it is due to the demands on the mother—giving too much calcium to the growing child. In either case it is relieved by giving calcium, vitamin D and parathyroid extract.
